MOCET Communicator™ Consumer

IP3092-C & IP3092L-C

Do More, Get More, Enjoy More With Your iPad

MOCET Communicator Consumer is an innovative iPad accessory that improves comfort, quality and privacy when using voice and video communications apps like Skype and so on. The Communicator is super simple to setup and use with the built-in HD quality handset and speakerphone. And you can use your existing iPad headset as well. There is even support for an external conference microphone set (available separately).

Communicator Consumer IP3092-C supports Apple 30-pin connector for iPad 1,2 and new models while IP3092L-C supports 8-pins for iPad 4, iPad Air, or even iPad mini/mini2. Also this series comes with white housing choice, IP3092-C (w) and IP3092L-C (w)

The Communicator also makes your iPad more convenient to use in your home or office with it's adjustable stand, fast charging for your iPad, and an additional USB charging port for your mobile phone.

Fully compatible with all iPad Apps, the Communicator makes it fun to use popular social media apps including popular Skype, Counterpath Bria, and more. For office users, the Communicator Consumer IP3092-C or IP3092L-C is compatible with enterprise unified communications apps like 8x8 Virtual Office, Counterpath Bria for iPad, Cisco Jabber, Polycom RealPresence and more. Especially, some Apps are shamelessly integrate the dock into a complete Video/Voice Conference phone, such like 8x8 Virtual Office.
